

As The Year Progresses

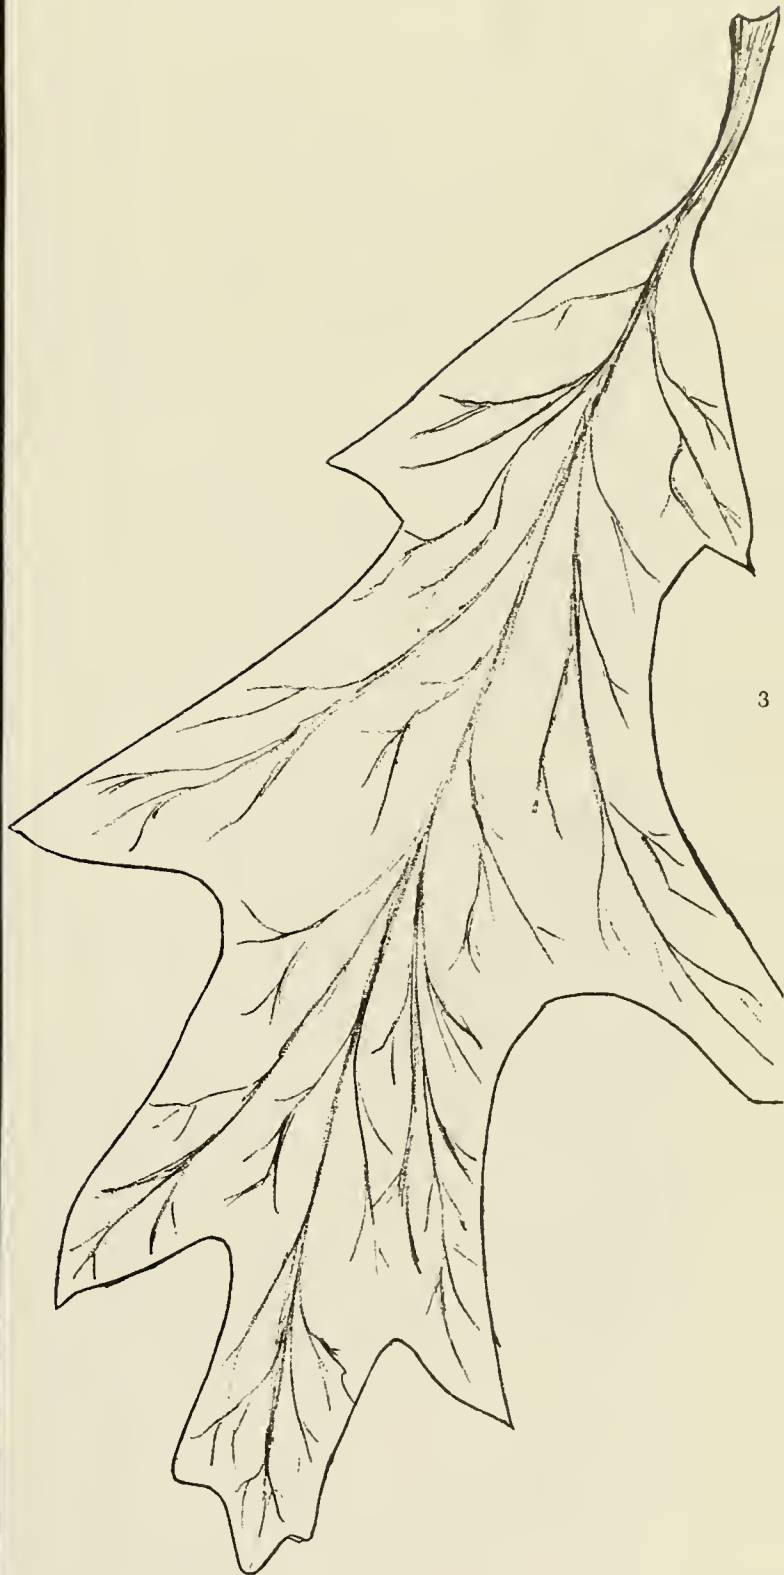

Time presses on,
And so must we.
As the year progresses
We are borne
On the seas of time,
Sometimes calm,
But mostly tumultuous
Making our way
To that far off goal
Called graduation.
Some will shipwreck
On the rocky shoals
Of failure,
But the lifeboat
Of summer school
Will save some.
Others will be swept
Off the ship of learning
By marriage.
Some will jump ship
At Port Break
After traveling the first leg
Of the journey
Over the storm tossed
First Semester Sea,
But some will make the Haven
Of Graduation.
From there some will call
At other ports
Of higher learning,
For some
This will be the final port
Of call.

However, the future
If far off,
And we must take
Each day,
Making the most of it.
For time is an entity
That gives no quarter.

Office of the President

The college years are the most swiftly moving years of life. So much is happening to us and around us that we can scarcely realize their full significance. But one thing is sure, we will never be the same because of the experiences of college. For a long time to come we shall be assimilating and bringing to fulfillment the things we have learned and experienced.

In the hurried and fast-moving pace of college life we can easily lose some of the lessons that crowd in upon us. Fortunately, the 1968-1969 edition of The Oak will capture in picture and in word so many of the highlights and even the smaller details of the year. As we turn the pages during the years ahead, we shall be reminded of these days on the Louisburg Campus. Thus, this annual will help to keep alive the absorbing and transforming moments of 1968-1969 at Louisburg College.
